VOL. III. PORTLAND OREGON: WEDNESDAY MORNING DECEMBER 30 1863. NO. 278

AYER'S
Catharlic Pills,
(SUGAR COATED)
...SE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK
...alids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians,
...hilanthropists, read their Effects,
and judge of their Virtues.
...dache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

...C AYER Sir I have been repeatedly cured of the ... headache any body can have by a dose or two of your ... It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse ... If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect
ED W PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

...ious Disorders and Liver Complaints.
...ARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D C, 7 Feb, 1856 ... I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours
...LONZO BALL, M D, Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.
...ost Office, Hartland, Liv Co Mich, Nov 15, 1855. ...YER Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They ... my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been ... pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO J GRIFFIN Postmaster.

...digestion and Impurity of the Blood.
...Rev J V Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston. ...YER I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J V HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING Co N Y Oct 24, 1855. ...SIR I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.
JOHN G MEACHAM, M D.

...ipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.
...rom a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb 4 1856. ...YER. Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.
ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.
...the Rev Dr Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.
PULASKI HOUSE SAVANNAH GA, Jan 6, 1856. ...SIR I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA, 5 Dec, 1855. ...I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.
VINCENT SLIDELL.

Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

...the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance.

...R'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
...S, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
...he relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

...not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout ... and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC 30 1863

REMOVAL.

The Office of the DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been removed to Carter's new brick block, corner of Front and Washington streets, up stairs. Entrance on Washington street, first door from Front.

NOTICE.

The members of the State Union Central Committee are requested to meet in Salem on Wednesday the 6th day of January next. Questions in regard to the time and place of holding a State Convention and other matters [illegible] will be presented for the consideration of the committee. A full attendance is desired.

JOHN H MOORES, Chairman.
SALEM, Dec 4th 1863

WHAT DEMOCRACY IS TRYING TO DO.—If any man doubts that all support given at the north to the Democratic party, is also strength and encouragement given to the rebellion, he must be wilfully blind to facts. Edward Everett says so. His language is:

"Every blow struck at the measures of the government though designed only to effect a change of Administration really affords aid and comfort to the enemy."

Lieut Maury says so. Pleading the cause of the rebels abroad, he declares that—

All the embarrassments with which that party can surround Mr Lincoln, and all the difficulties that it can throw in the way of the war party of the North, operate directly as so much aid and comfort to the South."

The Richmond Enquirer adds its testimony. It declares the interests of the rebels and the Democrats of the north to be identical, and says:

"The success of the Northern Democratic party would be no longer doubtful, should Gen. Lee once more advance on Meade. Parties in the United States are so nearly balanced, that the least advantage thrown in the favor of one will insure its success. Lee may so move and direct his army as to produce political results which in their bearing upon this war will prove more effectual than the bloodiest victories. Let him drive Meade into Washington, and he will again raise the spirits of the Democrats, confirm their timid and give confidence to their wavering. He will embolden the Peace party should he again cross the Potomac, for he will show the people of Pennsylvania how little security they have from Lincoln for the protection of their homes."

With such proof of the sympathy and conversity of interest existing between the northern Democracy and the rebellion, have we not a right to urge every patriot to leave a party which finds success in national adversities and in the triumph of which the rebels confess that they place the chief hope of their future victories over the Government?

ABOLITIONIST.—The following definition of the term "Abolitionist" is reproduced from the Southern Literary Messenger, a Richmond publication. "An Abolitionist is any man who does not love slavery for its own sake as a divine institution who does not worship it as the corner stone of civil liberty who does not adore it as the only possible social condition on which a permanent republican government can be created, and does not in his inmost soul desire to see it extended and perpetuated over the whole earth, as a means of human reformation second in dignity, importance, and sacredness to the Christian religion. He who does not love African slavery with this love is an Abolitionist."

That is a frank statement of what the south claims, and furnishes to the northern man, the means of testing and defining his own position. Who by such a rule will refuse to be called an abolitionist? If there are any in the free States, who object to this, we think they are out of place, and away from home; they ought to go where their treasure is, and where they belong.

FROM BOISE.—Mr. E. P. Fitz Gerald, has lately returned from Boise, and furnishes us with the latest news from that quarter. He left the Basin in the midst of a snow storm, with snow at the time of starting six inches deep. With the fall of snow he thinks mining operations for the winter would be over. A number of prospectors were at work for the purpose of ascertaining whether gold exists below the surface of the shell which has heretofore limited the operations of the miners. It may not be generally known that heretofore there has been no attempt to reach the bed rock. All that the miners have done is to strip off the surface earth, and penetrate to what appeared to be little more than a shell. Beneath this it is thought that rich deposits will be found, and it is to test this theory that the prospectors are now at work. Like all others who have returned from Boise, Mr. F. is sanguine, and thinks that the last season is only a foretaste of what we may expect with another year. The heavy snows on the mountains give assurance that next year the miners will have an abundance of water and with this element there can scarce be a limit to the productiveness of the of the Boise mines.

The stocks of goods in the mines are in fair supply, and no suffering need be apprehended for the want of the necessaries of life. A few articles are scarce, and command high rates but fortunately they are conveniences rather than necessaries, and can be readily dispensed with. There is so little security for life in the Basin that the question of forming a Vigilance Committee had been seriously debated. Should the citizens be driven to this alternative, woe to the scoundrels that infest the country. In conclusion, Mr. F. represents the travel to and from Boise as pleasant. The traveler if so disposed, can stop at a house each night on the road and is at all times able to get a square meal, with these conveniences, the trip to Boise partakes of the nature of a pleasure excursion, free from danger and such as almost any person might undertake with perfect safety.

Pack trains continue to leave Umatilla for the Boise country. The ruling rate of freight is 30 cents per pound, and it is freely offered at that. The Boise mines ought to pay well to warrant traders in paying these high rates.—Mountaineer.

MURDER AT SALT LAKE.—Samuel Bunton, of Walla Walla who had been to the Beaver Head mines during the past season, lately arrived at Salt Lake, and on Monday the 7th of December was stabbed to death by Jason Luce, an express driver on the Bannock route.

MILITARY.—Capt John P. Noble has been acquitted of the charges preferred against him, and ordered to be restored to duty.

Lewis Blenker, some time a General in the Union army, but dismissed the service for misconduct, died at his residence, in New Jersey, on the 31st October, aged 42 years.

THE FUTURE OF VIRGINIA CITY.—In a late letter of J. Ross Browne to the San Francisco Bulletin he thus speaks of this flourishing mining town:

There are questions which will naturally arise in the mind of a disinterested person like myself who stands upon the two feet turn[illegible] by an all wise Providence, touching the future of Virginia City—questions not [illegible] at present. Is it likely to be a permanently prosperous place? Is there anything to [illegible] that it will continue to increase [illegible] population? Will property be worth [illegible] three years hence than it is now? Will all the fine brick buildings now in progress [illegible] with those already completed pay interest at the rate of 5 per cent a month on borrowed [illegible] for any protracted period of time? Suppose [illegible] owns a number of lots and [illegible] it be well to sell out at the present high figure or wait till the figure rises a great deal higher [illegible] falls a great deal lower? How much faith must a man have to make credulity a paying institution?

Now, touching the chances of permanent prosperity. I must be pardoned for expressing a doubt. It was thought a few years ago that the mining towns of California were permanently prosperous. Many of them after having suffered from repeated conflagration were rebuilt with fire proof material in order that they might last through future generations. Business flourished and speculation was rife. Property became fabulously valuable. Where is it all now? What is property worth in San Juan, Nevada, Grass Valley, Auburn, Sonora, or any town on the western slope of the Sierra Nevadas, either partially or wholly dependent upon mining operations? Even in Sacramento and Marysville which enjoyed a mingled commercial, mining, and agricultural patronage real estate is [illegible] to such a degree that the more a man owns the poorer he considers himself.

I can see no guarantee against a similar depreciation of property in Virginia. It recently possessed a population of perhaps ten or twelve thousand—one third of whom have already left for Reese river. Some will remain there, some go elsewhere and a few will probably come back. There are more people now in Virginia than the business of the place requires. As trade and population become scattered through the Territory, there will be no reason why this particular point should continue to be a depot of trade. Supplies can go by other routes as well as by this, and will certainly go by the best and cheapest way, in spite of brick houses and glittering saloons. My belief is that Virginia City will gradually become what nature intends it to be—a mere depot for the trade and products of the Comstock lead. It will simply be a mining town, with its mills, foundries, workshops and boarding houses. No human being in his senses will undertake to live there, unless he has business. It does not possess a single inducement beyond what is based upon its mineral productions. The mining towns of California, owing to advantages of climate and soil were soon beautified by gardens, orchards and vineyards and rich farms grew up around them. What is their condition to day? Most of them have been practically abandoned and present a scene of utter desolation. When such has been the natural course of events in California, with all its advantages it is presumption to claim that a similar fate is not likely to overtake Virginia. Silver mining may be very different in its details from gold mining—especially placer mining—but the general principles of supply and demand must operate nearly alike in both cases. Where a large population is no required to work a single paying lead, it will disperse to other and more remunerative points. Somebody must lose in the long run by the fanaticism of speculation which is now building up this extraordinary city of the mountains.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE.—The influence of personal appearance is sharply illustrated by the following story, told by a friend, now an officer in the army:

I was at Washington City in the spring of 1861, and while there I met an old and valued friend, whom I had not not seen for many years. He had been much of the time since I had last met him in the Far West, and was then at Washington applying for a very important appointment in one of our Territories.

One day during a long talk, he discussed his chances of success, and I inquired whether he had called upon or had been presented to Secretary S—, who had the appointment at his disposal. He replied that he had not. I then proposed to accompany him at once and introduce him to the Secretary, but he shook his head saying "I am too sharp for that. He might play big Indian on me." I insisted upon his going with me, he declined, remarking that it might be advisable for some applicants, of fine personal presence, to present themselves to the appointing power but for applicants of his size and appearance it would probably be best to be personally unknown. My friend was a small man and not decidedly handsome, but had a good face and fine head, with plenty of brains in it. I ridiculed the idea that his personal appearance should injure his prospects. He replied saying, "Let me tell you a story."

"When I was Territorial Secretary of —— Territory it devolved upon me, in the absence of the Governor to act in his stead in negotiating a treaty with certain Indian tribes, who had their homes far distant from the seat of the Territorial government, and after due preparation, and with a proper escort, under command of Major M——, of the army, we set out upon our journey, and in due time reached the place appointed for holding the council. We found a large number of chiefs of several tribes accompanied by their squaws and warriors awaiting our arrival. A few days were spent in making ourselves agreeable to the breechesless chiefs, and in receiving official calls, and in making presents to the warriors and their squaws.

"On the day appointed for the opening of the council I as the representative of the President of the United States—the Great Father of the Indians—accompanied by the officers of the army, interpreters, and secretaries, repaired to the council house, and found quite a number of savage statesmen seated upon the places prepared for them, as grave as a body of Roman Senators. But it was soon known that there were several absentees, and among them the head chief of a large and influential tribe who was a large man, and a great warrior. We took our seats in silence, and waited until the day had worn away, and still the chief and his friends did not favor us with their presence. The council adjourned to meet next day, and in the mean time the absentees were sought for, and inquiries were made as to the cause of their absence. The principal chief Buffalo Horn, appeared unusually reserved and morose, and refused for a long time to assign any reason for absenting himself but finally upon being reproached with acting in bad faith toward his Great Father in refusing to go into the council he with much excitement in his manner, replied in his own language. The sum and substance of which being interpreted, was, that he was a great chief, had come a long distance to see his Great Father and make treaty with him, and had been greatly disappointed in not finding him there, and in seeing that he was represented by so small a specimen of the pale faces as I was that he was big chief, and great warrior, and could make no treaty with such a looking man as the Governor, and that if the Great Father could not come himself to make treaty with a great chief like him, and would not send a larger and better looking man than the Governor, Indians would make no treaty at all. And no argument or persuasion could induce him to change his mind.

He felt that the dignity of his chieftainship was involved, and we were forced to install Major M—— in my stead as Governor and representative of the Great Father. The Major was a large fine looking man, and besides was a great warrior, and he fully met the chief's idea of official dignity. The council met next day and the big chief was fully satisfied. He was spared the humiliation of playing second part to a small man who was not a warrior after some powwows, presents and speeches, and Indian grants the treaty was made and signed and I was taught that small men are not always appreciated by men in the chief place of Government, and you will therefore excuse me if I do not accept of your kind offer to present me to the 'head chiefs' of the State Department."

Whether the applicant was ever presented to the Secretary I cannot tell, but he failed to receive the appointment.

MEN go in an undulating course—sometimes on the hill, sometimes in the valley. But he only is in the right who in the valley forgets not the hill prospects, and knows in darkness that the sun will rise again. That is the real life which is not soul or isolated to, not emerged in the ideal. He is only wise who can bring the lowest act of his life into sympathy with his highest thought. And this I take to be the one aim of our pilgrimage here. I agree with those who think that no true philosophy will try to ignore or annihilate the material part of man but will rather seek to put it in its place as servants and ministers to the soul.—Margaret Fuller.

POOR SOUTHERN WHITES.—[illegible] Upper South [illegible] marked [illegible] The [illegible] heavy [illegible] hued [illegible] dark [illegible] eyes [illegible] that he knows little of, he would but feels [illegible] with what little he does know [illegible] the other possesses [illegible] principally on the sand hills of North Carolina and in the mountain region of Western Virginia and Upper Georgia. They [illegible] their poor cabins, and glean a precarious existence from hunting, fishing, and a few sterile acres.

The [illegible] class who are counted by millions and are scattered from the Potomac to the Rio Grande are the [illegible] South, the props and expectation [illegible] them [illegible] garrisoned cities, will depend the safety and perpetuity of the Union. An unprincipled aristocracy has robbed them of knowledge and moulded them to its will [illegible] whenever truth has reached them they have shown an unflinching devotion to the Union, which we true sons [illegible] lovers of the truth [illegible] Tennessee where Parson Brownlow has been their great apostle and "The Knoxville Whig" their Bible and standing book [illegible] exhibited a heroic patriotism which the world—and I say this with every small spot in my history—has seldom witnessed. The deeds they have done, the sacrifices they have made, the sufferings they have endured for a government which has closed its eyes to their sorrows and its ears to their complaints, will be read and wondered at when this generation shall have passed away. Their story is not yet told, but when it is told many a cheek will mantle with shame—is much [illegible] to hear what these poor unlettered men, women and children have done and suffered for their country, while we have been growing fat on its necessities, and looking idly on, as it seemed tottering to its ruin.

From this latter class sprung Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Andrew Johnson and Parson Brownlow.—Edmund Kirke author of Among the Pines.

SOUTHERN CIVILIZATION.—A New York correspondent of a London journal in a recent letter, takes in hand the rebel aristocracy and ignorant white trash of South Carolina in the following style. "The part of the population which is familiar either with the usages of good society, or even of civilized life, does not exceed twenty families, who owe their culture and refinement to the ability to visit the North every year; the rest are semi barbarians the like of whom can now perhaps only be found in the remoter parts of Russia or Asiatic Georgia, and would be almost as great a curiosity to a New England farmer as a Zulu Caffre.

What is more annoying than to be deceived by one in whom you place implicit confidence? Who has not been taken in by the scandalous tricks of unscrupulous dealers in slop clothing? If you would avoid disappointment and get your money's worth trade with Houston, Hastings & Co., the great Clothing firm of Lick House Montgomery street San Francisco. They will furnish you with well fitting and well made garments, and they deal only in goods of first rate quality.

The foundation of domestic happiness is faith in the virtue of woman; the foundation of all political happiness is confidence in the integrity of man, and the foundation of all happiness—temporal and eternal—reliance on the goodness of God.

The rebels are reduced to making brandy out of persimmons.

AGREEABLE SURPRISE AND JUST TRIBUTE.—At the Masonic Hall Monday evening, when the spacious Lodge room was filled by brethren to witness the installation service, a magnificent gold headed manzanita cane and a Templar's jewel were presented to Past Master C. H. Lewis, who had just vacated the Oriental chair of Willamette Lodge, No 2 which he had been the accomplished occupant for the last three years. These tokens from the brethren were presented in behalf of Willamette Lodge by Past Grand Master Holbrook with a few pertinent remarks. The recipient but a moment before in blissful ignorance of what the Craft had been doing in his regard, was deeply moved and responded in a manner alike creditable to his head and heart. The cane is of excellent workmanship. Its head of pure gold octagonal concave sides upon which is engraved the source, recipient, object and date of presentation. The top is gold reined quartz, attached by hinge and spring, and when opened, exhibits under a circular glass, eight apertures, converging to the centre, each filled with fine gold dust from different mining localities. The jewel is a gold Maltese Cross, jet inlaid, with the usual cross in the centre on a red enamelled ground, surrounded by the motto—"in hoc signo vinces." On the reverse, with a plain gold face, is the Mark Master's mark, thus embracing in one elegant jewel, the symbols of Ancient Craft and Christian Masonry. The officers elect of the two Lodges were installed by M. W. John McCraken, Grand Master, and an oration was delivered by P. G. M. Amory Holbrook. The event will be long remembered with pleasure by the members and visitors present.

SHIPMENT OF TREASURE.—Wells, Fargo & Company shipped on the San Francisco steamer, last evening, the sum of $175,000, Allen & Lewis, $20,000, H. W. Corbett, $2,000—total $197,000. This was the amount reported by Richards & McCraken, Agents, at 7 o'clock, last evening, but it was expected that the treasure shipments would be increased before eleven o'clock—the hour appointed for the steamer to leave.

BURGLARY.—A two year-old heifer entered a fruit store at the lower end of town, yesterday afternoon, while the owner's back was toward her, and paid her devoirs to a box of luscious apples. The transaction was more creditable to the bovine's taste than to her owner's morals. Several complaints have lately been by fruit dealers in that neighborhood made of inroads upon their exposed fruit and vegetables.

DEPARTURE.—Mr. G. B. Waldron, the lessee and manager of Willamette Theatre, left on the steamer for San Francisco, to bring up by return boat some greater attractions for the theatrical boards. He expects to secure an engagement with a "star" and two good actresses to add to the troupe now here.

NEW TRIAL.—Judge Shattuck yesterday made an order granting a new trial, for error in law in the charge of the Court to the jury, in the Portland Gas Light Co. vs the City of Portland, which was tried at the last term of the Circuit Court and a verdict brought in against the city.

GONE EAST.—Mr. Joseph Strowbridge, of the firm of Wiberg & Strowbridge, boot and shoe dealers, left on the steamer for a trip to the East. He will visit New York and Boston, and there make arrangements for the reception, from first hands, of all the stock in trade necessary to be imported by their house. This importation enables the merchant to dispose of his goods at the lowest figures, and to realize a handsome profit, because he has saved the commissions and other expenses incident to the California sub purchase. Success to direct trade with the East.

FREIGHT FOR OREGON.—The steamer last night took away 6,000 boxes of apples, 1 case eggs, and 70 chests tea.

THE Hunt came down with only twenty-five passengers last night. No dust reported.

WE had no mail last night from beyond Salem, hence the paucity of news to-day.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—We copy from the San Francisco Morning Call an article describing the new steam engine intended for that city as it is said to be precisely similar to the one our gallant firemen aspire to own, a motion concerning which was recently defeated in the Common Council:

"A new steam fire engine has been built in Waterford, N. Y., for California Engine Company, No. 4, and is now en route for this city. She weighs with her capacity of water, 3,400 lbs., and her exterior presents the very finest finish. At a trial she gave the highest satisfaction. In five minutes thirty seconds from applying the match she had on 50 lbs of steam, and the pumps being set in motion, she worked about five minutes through 1,800 feet hose, when the latter burst. At a distance of 1,800 feet from the pump, she threw a stream 95 feet perpendicularly. With the nozzle 1,200 feet from the pump she threw 120 feet perpendicularly, and at a less distance from the pump she threw 135 feet. She works easy and stands firm and, while she is the lightest machine ever constructed by her manufacturers because easily drawn by 15 men, the peculiar principle of the application of the power renders her perfectly steady and free from strain.

AN Irishman attending a Quaker meeting, heard a young friend make the following announcement: "Brethren and sisters, I am going to marry a daughter of the Lord." "Begorra then ye are," said Pat, "faith, an it'll be a long time afore ye'll see yer father in law."

REPARTEE.—Two old New England ministers were riding by a gallows, when the older one asked the other: "Where would you be if that tree had its proper fruits?" "Riding alone, sir," was the prompt reply.

Masonic.—Harmony Lodge No. 12, F & A M, holds its communications on the 2d and 4th Mondays of each month at 7 o'clock P. M. Brothers in good standing are invited to attend. By order] W. M.

SINGULAR SUPERSTITION.—The following interesting story is told by Gleig in his interesting "Life of Wellington." We should scarcely credit it if it were not vouched for by the "Iron Duke" himself:

Referring to the advance from the Ebro to the Douro, the duke said: "I think he had got famously taken in on one occasion. The troops had taken to plundering a good deal. It was necessary to stop it, and I issued an order announcing that the first man taken in the act should be hanged upon the spot. One day, just as they were sitting down to dinner, three men were brought to the tent by the Provost. The case against them was clear, and I had nothing for it but to declare that they should be taken away and hanged in some place where they might be seen by the whole column in its march the next day. I had a good many guests on that occasion, and among the rest, I think Lord Nugent. They seemed dreadfully shocked, and couldn't eat their dinner. I didn't like it much myself, but, as I told them, I had no time to indulge my feelings, I must do my duty. Well, the dinner went off rather gravely, and next morning sure enough, three men in uniform were seen hanging from the branches of a tree close to the high road. It was a terrible example, and produced the desired effect—there was no more plundering. But you may guess what my astonishment was, when some months afterwards, I learnt that one of my staff took counsel with Dr Hume and as three men had just died in the hospital, they hung them up, and let the three culprits return to their regiments."

"Were you not very angry?" was the question.

"Well I suppose I was at first, but as I had no wish to take the fellows' lives and only wanted the example, and as the example had the desired effect my anger soon died out, and I confess to you that I am very glad now that the three lives were spared."

JACK DOWNING'S LAST.—The Major is giving his views again, and in the last letter, which we have seen, comforts his Democratic brethren by telling them the following good stories:

The Democratic party reminds me of old Deacon Doolittle's youngest boy, Bob. When Bob was 15 years old he was the most awful liar I ever knew. And he would not only lie, but he would steal. One day at school the teacher undertook to whip him, an Bob jumped out of the window and run down across the lots, frightening on his way old Sol Pender grass's bay mare so badly that she broke her leg in tryin to jump over a fence and died the next day. The old Deacon called Bob up, and gave him a terrible whippin'. As he was about losin up the job, the Deacon, ses he, "Bob, why can't you behave yourself?" "Wal Pop," ses Bob drawlin out the words between the blubberin, "the reason is just this I can't behave unless I am licked." An just so it is with the Democratic party. I should think its late thrashings ought to put it on its good behavior.

Things are now just as bad as they kin be, and that is what encourages me. I shall never forget Hezekiah Stebbins, who lived away up in the upper part of Penobscot. One winter it had been awful cold weather, and Kiah had been in wonderful bad luck and toward spring it seemed to get worse instead of better. He had lost his horse and his cow, and his chickens and all his pigs but one. Finally that died, and the next day I happened to go up to his house to see how he was getting along. I found the old man happy as a lark. He was singin' and shoutin as if nothing had happened. When I went in ses I, "Kiah, what on airth is the matter?" "Oh, sez he, "the last pig is ded" and he went on to jumpin and clappin his hands as if he was the happiest man in the universe. Ses I, "what possesses you to act so?" "Wal ses he, "things can't be no wuss. The last pig is ded! anything that happens now must be for the better." And just so it is with the Dimmycratic party. Anything that happens to it must be for the better.

PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATS.—We find in an eastern Newspaper the following "platform," said to have been adopted by Democrats of Ohio, and elsewhere since the elections. These resolutions show a considerable power of adaptation to circumstances:

Wareas, dimocrisy flurishes best won its successful and wareas, it is a tender flower and don't bear the chillin frosts uv adversity much, and wareas, the people has shode by the pekoolyer stile of their votin that they don't like Vallandiggum ner his prenseples, and wareas the people is uv moar yuse to us than Vallandiggum therefore, be it

Resolved, That Vallandiggum never was a represontativ uv the dimocratic ijee.

Resolved, That we do not indorse his views or approv his acts, an I never did.

Resolved, That on the old A Lincoln by arros in uv him, and thereby forcin us us into committin polititkle sooeside by undertakin us him, was guilty of a heenus crime.

Resolved, That we aint oz much consarned about our habis corpusses oz we wuz afore election.

Resolved, That the war for the Union must go on until its enemies is subjugated, and the banner of duty and glory waves over stait, and the dimocratic committus uv the various staits be requested to procoor a lot uv banners, and appint sub committus to wave 'em.

Resolved, That we air in favor uv subjugashun, emansipashun, confiscashun, taxashun conscripshun, exterminashun, nigger enlistment and all hres anything else the people lest us let em write (post pade) and weel pass the necessary resolushen.

A MISER IN HIGH LIFE.—Lord Bateo, an ancestor of the Earl of Life, was remarkable for practising that celebrated rule, "Get all you can, and keep all you can get." One day walking down the avenue from his house he saw a farthing lying at his feet, which he carefully cleaned. A beggar passing at the same time, entreated his lordship would give him the farthing, saying it was not worth a nobleman's attention.

"Find a farthing to yourself, poor body," replied his lordship, and carefully put the coin in his breeches pocket.

In addition to being his own farthing finder, his lordship was his own factor and rent collector. A tenant who called upon him to pay his rent happened to be deficient a farthing. This amount could not be excused, and the farmer had to pay the farthing. When the business was adjusted the countryman said to his lordship: "Now, Bateo, I would give ye a shillin for a sight of the gould and siller ye hae."

"Well, mon," replied Bateo, "it's no cost ye ony mair," and according for that sum his lordship exhibited several iron boxes filled with gold and silver coin.

"Now," said the farmer, "I am as rich as yoursel."

"Ay mon," said his lordship, "how can that be?"

"Because I've seen it—and you can do no mair."

WHICH WAS IT?—Sister Peabody didn't see fit to mention which one it was, she could have done so. A veteran church sister was asked by the presiding elder: "How many commandments are there?" "Nine," was the reply. "Sister Peabody," says the elder, reprovingly, "have you sat under the preaching of the gospel eight and thirty years, and don't know how many commandments there are?" "I know, elder," was the answer, "there used to be ten, but I broke one of them last week, and there ain't but nine left."

A TOLERANT BISHOP.—Cardinal Donnet, the Roman Archbishop of Bordeaux employs a printer who is not only a protestant but the proprietor of an opposition journal, and had the good sense to remark, in reply to a complaint made to him that he employed a workman who was not a Catholic, "I do not inquire about his faith, I only know that he is an excellent workman."

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above diseases in ninety nine cases out of a hundred.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN
PHYSICIANS
and CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown, D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 1861 J NEWTON BROWN.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr Malone, restored to life.
